Julia,

You are one of those rare young people who shines in every space you step into. As a dancer, you bring discipline, artistry, and a kind of fire that only comes from someone who truly loves what they do. What makes you stand out even more is the heart behind all that talent and hard work: you are kind and thoughtful, the sort of person who lifts others up simply by being yourself. Stay true to yourself and follow your dreams.

We love you!

Mom and Dad

A photograph of the exterior of a Dockside Insurance Group building. The building is a two-story structure with large windows and a brick facade. A sign on the building reads "Defending" and "HONORING U.S. Military". A large archway over the street also features the text "Defending" and "HONORING U.S. Military". The scene is set in a sunny, outdoor environment with trees and a clear blue sky.

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

The Wizard of Oz is a classic. It is an iconic part of American culture. We are thrilled to be able to bring this story to life at ADV and introduce it to a new generation. As with any production, but especially a musical, it takes entire teams of people to make the dream a reality. Sets, costumes, choreography, props, singing, acting, sound tech, lights, staging, scheduling, rehearsals, transport, and hundreds of little details come together to create the magic of what you see on stage for just over an hour. The actors don't just learn lines; they learn how to be responsible backstage to make sure that everything runs smoothly. They learn teamwork to fill in gaps when someone is absent and how to keep the show going when things go wrong. They learn to depend on each other and be present because other actors are counting on them. Theater is a microcosm of life.

We also have a support system to assist in creating this performance. We would like to thank everyone who has helped make this production possible. Mrs. Stanziano and Mrs. Paul for art and tech support, Mr. Orlando Peña for his expertise as Artist in Residence, Ms. Angie Jones for her costume magic, Ms. Bartelloni and Mrs. Brown for their administrative support, the ADV Board of Directors for continuing to support our school for the Arts and Technology, the staff of ADV for their flexibility, the parents and volunteers who bring their students to rehearsals, volunteer their time and talents, and support the Arts program at ADV, and finally, our shining stars, our students. They have worked hard to bring you these moments of joy. Finally, we would like to thank our families for their support during these past several months. We couldn't do it without you. And now, sit back, relax, and enjoy the show!
